Note: This Adult Rehabilitation Kit is for a new listener or a listener developing confidence with their hearing technology. If you are unsure where to start, simply begin at Level 1. All recipients will benefit from all activities, even if they seem simple at first. This helps build listening endurance and confidence.

How to choose a level

Level 1	The recipient is learning to discriminate words of differing syllable number. The recipient is learning to understand words when they are at the end of a sentence and when they have differing acoustic characteristics.	The recipient needs support with activities which involve aspects of auditory and cognitive processing. Auditory memory tasks are challenging.	The recipient is working along their journey to life using a hearing implant and is developing confidence in communicating in their wider world. Support is needed to develop communication strategies.
Level 2	The recipient is learning to discriminate words of the same syllable number with differing acoustic characteristics. The recipient is learning to understand words when they are in multiple places in a sentence and when they have similar acoustic characteristics.	The recipient can complete some activities which involve auditory and cognitive processing.

Tips

This material is suitable for recipients who have had their hearing device fitted or cochlear implant processor switched on for a period of two weeks or more.

Check the recipient's hearing at the beginning of every rehabilitation session using the Ling Six Sound Test.

- Find a strategy for giving the recipient instructions for each activity. You might need to write the instructions down or you can use the instructions on these pages and point to the words as you read them.
- Ensure that the recipient understands all the information that is provided throughout the session. For example, if you speak to another family member, ensure that the recipient can access what was said. It may be necessary to write it down. It is important for the recipient to be included and valued as a participant in all discussions throughout the session.
- It is often helpful to do a trial of each activity together to ensure the recipient knows what they are required to do. Building confidence in recipients is important. Remember that activities that are easy are still useful to build confidence and increase listening endurance. Do not rush to harder activities.
- When using paper or a hand to limit visual access, be sure a good auditory signal is received. Ensure the sound is not muffled by the screen.
- Remember that the activities can be tiring for the recipient. Ensure there are some breaks between activities when the recipient can relax (e.g., getting a drink of water, stretching) before beginning the next activity.
- For Hearing Lifestyle activities, easy access to information is recommended. This can be achieved by allowing access to lip-reading or by reading the information.

HEAR SAY CHOOSE

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

Level 1:

- Identifies familiar names of differing syllable number; alone and with a carrier phrase

Level 2:

- Identifies familiar names of similar syllable number and sounds; alone, at the end of a sentence, and within a sentence

Print the resources. On the Shared Page write a list of names of family members and friends. Pair names by differing syllable number and by similar syllable number.

1. Start with the first pair of words on the Shared Page. Cover the words below that pair.
2. Say each word alone while pointing to it. Have the recipient repeat it. For new recipients, this step may be repeated several times.
3. Say one of the words alone without pointing to it.
4. The recipient points to or repeats the word. Randomly choose a word from this pair and repeat or proceed to the next pair.
5. Try the pairs again using one of the suggested carrier phrases or sentences.

SELECTIVE LISTENING

Level 1:

- Listens to name and identifies corresponding date

Level 2:

- Listens to partial spoken date and identifies missing information (day, month, year, or part of year)

Print the resources. On the Shared Page write a list of names of family members and friends, and write their birth dates next to their names.

1. For Level 1, the speaker randomly says a name on the list.
2. The recipient finds the name and says the birth date that corresponds to that name.
3. For Level 2, the speaker randomly says a birth date but omits either the day, month, year, or part of the year (e.g., John, 8th of ____ 1976).
4. The recipient fills in the missing information (e.g., January).

HOW CAN THEY HELP US?

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

- Learns strategies family members can use to help make hearing easier

Strategies for others in the recipient's life are discussed in this activity. These can either be addressed directly if the other person is present in the session or by discussing and sending information that can be shared with others later.

	Speaker Page
	Level 1

Choose pairs of names from the list which are different in their syllable number and how they sound. For example, are very different as one has one syllable and one has four syllables, and they contain many different sounds.

Jim Alexandra

Use the pairs in a HEAR SAY CHOOSE activity.

Use the words alone and then with a carrier phrase with the word at the end of the sentence (e.g., I can see Jim vs. I can see Alexandra; Here comes Jim vs. Here comes Alexandra).

	Speaker Page
	Level 2

Choose pairs of names from the list which are similar in syllable number and sounds.

Use the pairs in a HEAR SAY CHOOSE activity.

Use the words alone and then with a carrier phrase first at the end, then in the middle of the sentence (e.g., I can see Jim vs. I can see John; I think Sarah is arriving today vs. I think Jonah is arriving today).

Shared Page

Level 1 and 2

List the names of familiar people and their birth dates.

e.g., John 8 January 1976

Janet 12 February 1964

Sometimes it can be difficult to hear what people say to you.

Here are some ideas for your family and friends to help you to hear better.

1. Say the recipient's name (to get their attention before you start speaking)
 2. Be close to the recipient
 3. Avoid talking to the recipient from a different room
 4. Face the recipient when you are talking to them
 5. Don't stand with your back facing a window or lighting source (this puts your face into shade)
 6. Don't eat or chew at the same time as you are talking
 7. Keep your hands away from your face while talking
 8. Turn off other noises such as television, air conditioning, projector, or heating
 9. Only one person talks at a time when in a group
 10. Provide a key word or topic before starting a conversation or when switching topics
 11. Talk, sit, or stand towards the side if the person has better hearing in one ear
12. Use clear speech:
 - m. Articulate sounds precisely and accurately
 - n. Form words fully
 - o. Speak a little more slowly
 - p. Take pauses between phrases and sentences
 - q. Speak slightly louder (but don't shout)
 - r. Use extra tone and stress to make your speech more interesting
 - s. Use natural, unexaggerated facial movements
